

( 2 )

- (d) Mention one advantage of scientific method of comparative education.
- (e) What is the full form of ICDS?
- (f) Which country is associated with the 'fundamental law of education'?
- (g) Write the name of one federal university of India.
- (h) In which year was the Butler Act introduced?
2. Define comparative education. Describe the scope and nature of comparative education.  $2+4+4=10$
3. Write about the economic and social factors affecting the national system of education.  $5+5=10$
4. Discuss the historical and statistical methods of comparative education.  $5+5=10$
5. Write about the administration and structure of secondary education in the UK.  $6+5=11$

Or

Write the objectives and curriculum of primary education in the USA.  $6+5=11$

( 3 )

6. Discuss the organization of teacher education in India and Japan.  $6+5=11$

Or

Write about the vocational education of the USA and the UK.  $6+5=11$

7. Write short notes on the following :  $4 \times 5 = 20$

- (a) Purpose of comparative education
- (b) Racial factor affecting the national system of education
- (c) Descriptive method of comparative education
- (d) Finance of secondary education in India
- (e) Evaluation system of higher education in Japan

***