Introduction:

Creative Activities refers to the act of creating something by thinking, art, artistic creation or production, the creation of beautiful or significant things. It is the act of creating something by removing something.

Creative activities by the students are possible when they are able to use imagination and critical thinking to create new and meaningful forms of ideas, where they can take risk, be independent and flexible. Instead of being taught to reiterate what was ability to find various solutions to a problem. The female students of the department of Economics are not exceptional. They are expert in making various decorative items using waste materials and other useful materials.

The students have shown various decorative items made by themselves to the teachers of the department. The teachers of the department have felt proud of their students and the teachers and students decide to organise a workshop on creative activities.

The matter was discussed with the principal and Co-ordinator, IQAC of the college. The Principal advised to organise the workshop in association with Research, Innovations and Extension Cell at the adopted village "Phulani Gaon" on 24th December 2021. Accordingly, the Department of Economics has decided to organise that workshop at "Phulani Gaon" and taken permission from the President of the Village Development Committee," Phulani Gaon".

About the Village:

The Village "Phualni Gaon" is 2 KM far away from the college and situated beside the N.H.39. The village is adopted by our college for the all round development. Many awareness and cleanliness programmes like cleanliness of the village road, drainage, sanitation, drinking water, Health, COVID-19 were organised there by the college. The people of the village are very co-operative and they also feel proud to be the part of our college. They have actively participated in any programme organised by the college. There are more 200 people in the village; all are well-educated and rich in cultural activities.

Objectives of the Workshop:

The major objectives of the workshop are-

1. To teach the women the ways of self-employment.
2. To teach them to make decorative items with the waste materials.

3. To empower the women through the workshop.

Materials Used:

The students of our Department have brought materials like fevicol, glue gun, art papers, colour bottles, glitters, scissors, socks, bindi, ribbon, dish etc for the purpose of making the decorative items in the workshop.

Explanation of Workshop:

The organising committee has reached the venue of the workshop at 10:30 AM and the girls and women of the village have already reached the venue. At the beginning of the workshop, the introductory speech was given by Nava Kamal Borah, convenor of Research, Innovations and Extension Cell, IQAc, Marangi Mahabidyalya. Sjt. Norendra Nath Dutta, the eldest and prominent person of the village was felicitated with a Phulam Gamucha by the students of the Department. He inaugurated the workshop with an encouraging speech which would encourage the students and the participants of the workshop and he also wished and appreciated the Department of Economics for organising such type of workshop outside the college which helps our students, girls and women of the village to reflect their creative mind and reuse of the waste materials in decorative items.

The objectives of the workshop was given by Mrs. Dipty Tamuly, HoD, Department of Economics and she welcome all the participants to join such programmes which would help them in developing their personality. She also requested all the participants to co-operate our students for successful and effective completion of the workshop.

At 11:30AM the workshop was started and our student Miss Anuradha Bora has made flowers from coloured paper and the women and the girls of the village have learnt the process of making flowers easily. They have shown their interest towards the workshop and happily trying to make other items. After that, Miss Janmoni Sharma has made decorative items like flowers, trees using waste materials like nutshell, papers etc. Another student Miss Porobita Borah has made beautiful toys using socks, ribbon and bindi. The toys are seen very beautiful and she has made them easily in a very Short period of time.

The participants were seen very excited by involving themselves in the workshop.

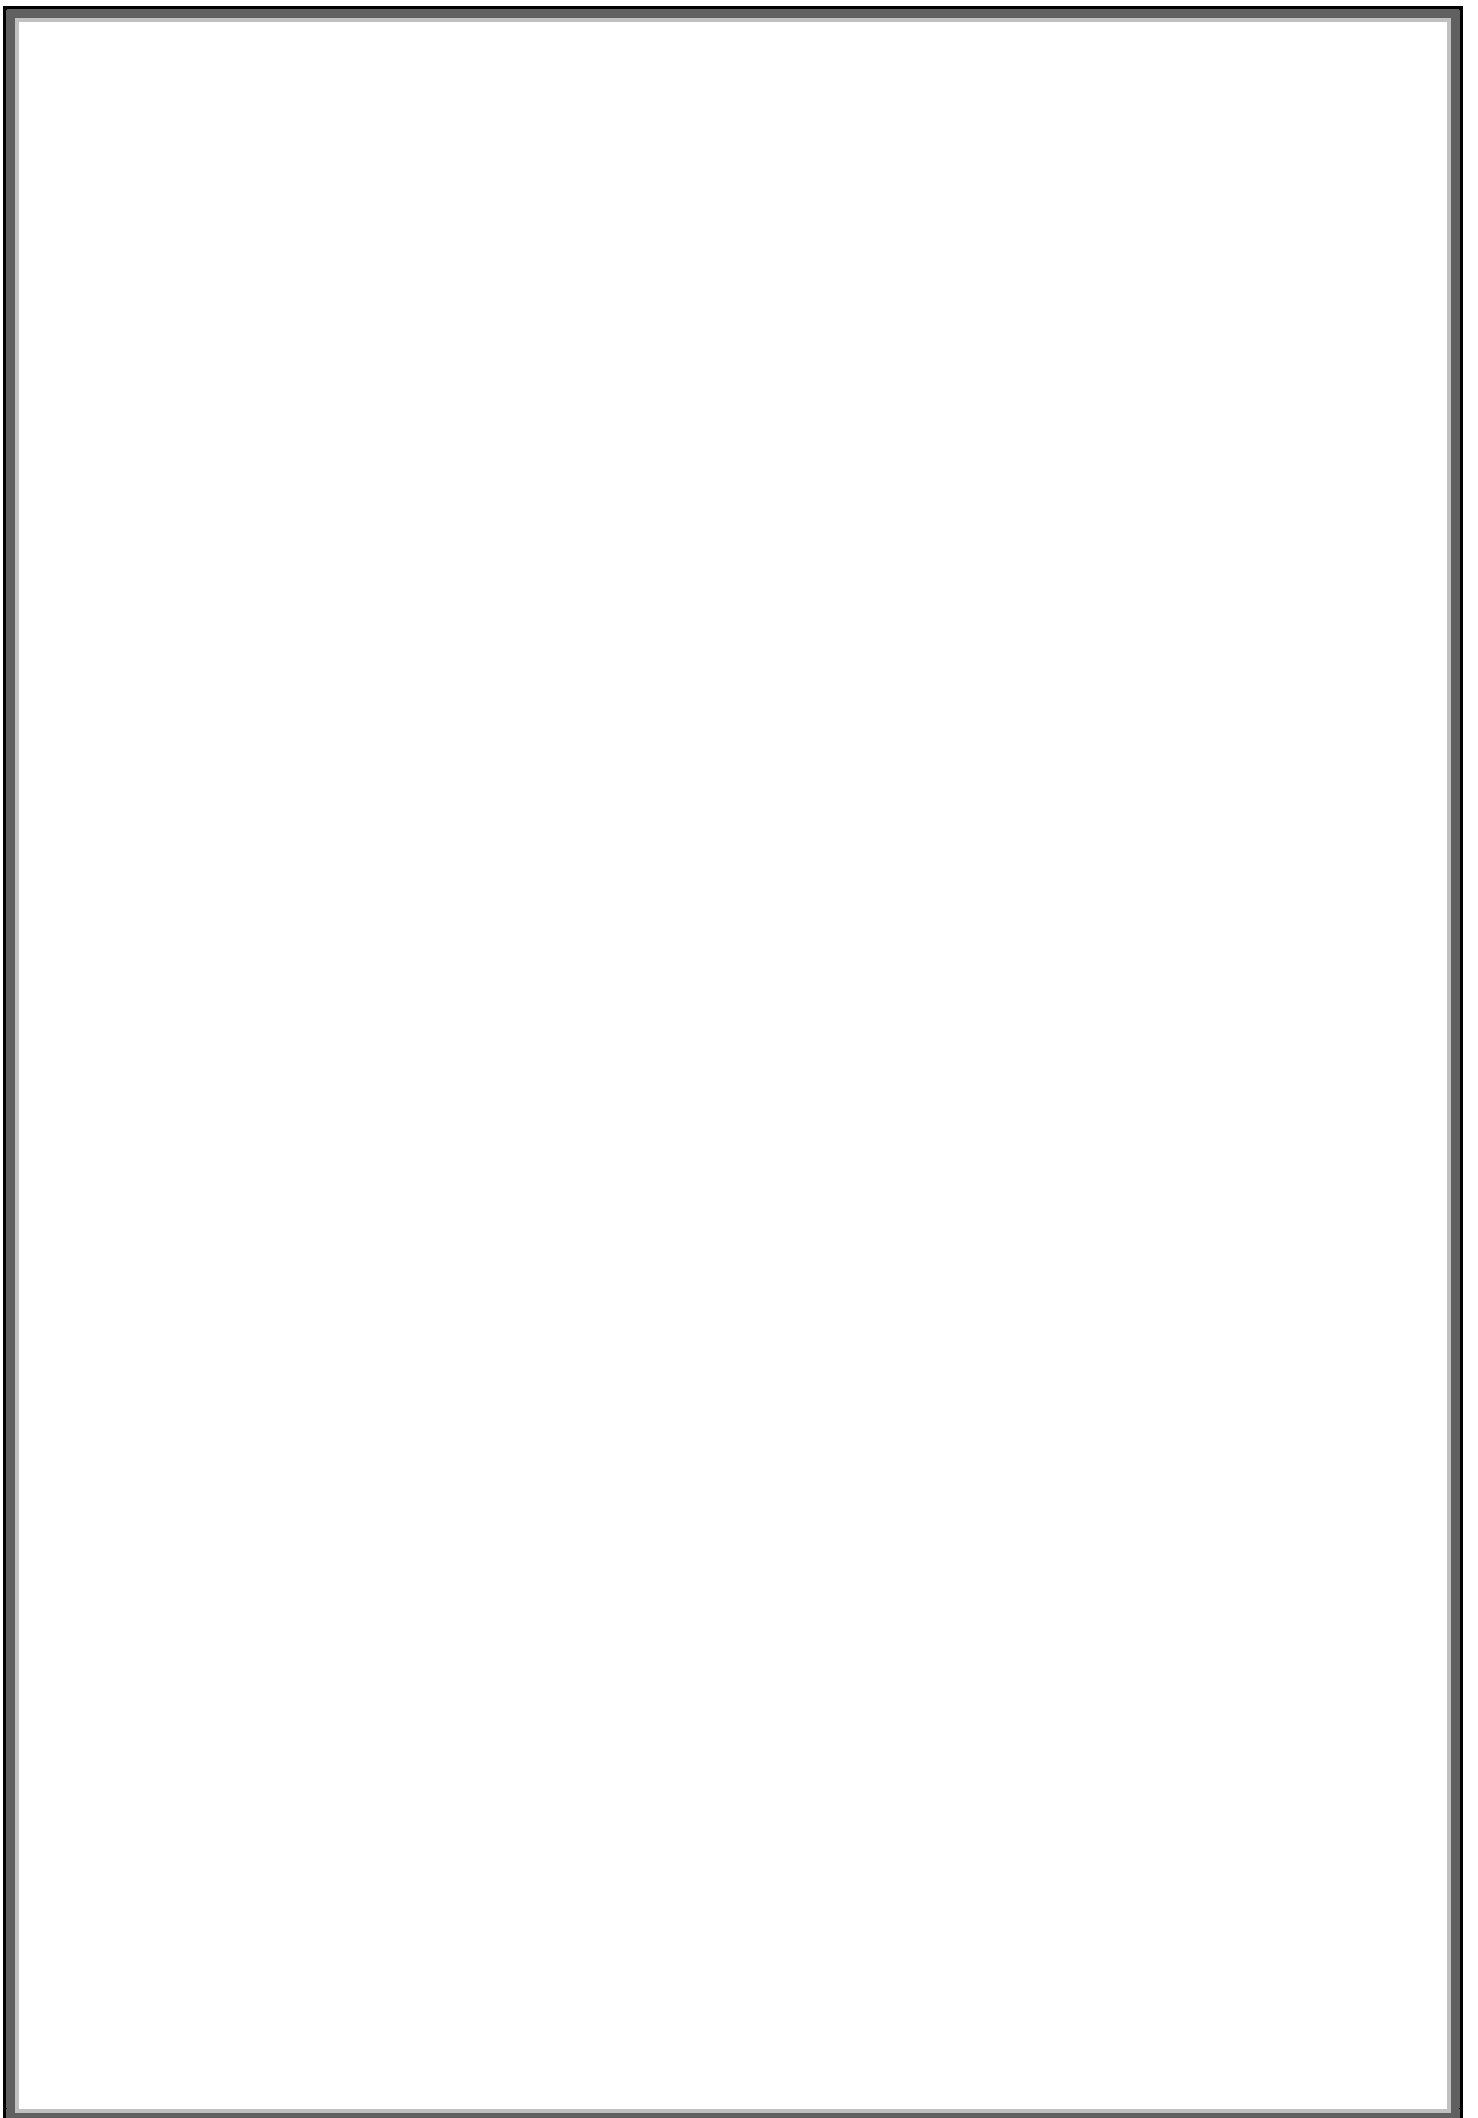

The Village Development Committee of the village has arranged a tea party both for the organising committee and the participants in the workshop. We also brought some sweets for the workshop.

Outcome of the workshop:

The village girls and women have enjoyed the workshop happily. They have made many different items as shown by our students, they discussed among themselves to make such types of items in such a manner that they will be able to sell them in the fairs organised by different NGOs and SHGs for earning money.

Conclusion:

At the end of the workshop Assistant Professor, Mrs. Monikankona Bodo has given vote of thanks especially to the Village Development Committee for giving the opportunity to arrange the workshop at their village and to the oldest person Sjt. Norendra nath Dutta for this presence at workshop and his valuable speech. She has also been thankful to the women and the girls of the village for their active participation and encouragement at the workshop. Report of Field Study

A Field Trip to
The Assam Co-operative Jute Mill Ltd. Silghat,
Dist: Nagaon, Assam
Date: 28th December, 2021

Organised by Department of Economics
Marangi Mahabidyalaya.

Introduction:

A field trip or an excursion is a journey by a group of people to a place away from their normal environment. Field trip is an organized visit of teachers and students to immediate or distant places to enrich learning experiences and to further instructional purposes of regular classroom activities. Life in the classroom can cover only a small part of our total life. If learning is to result in the total development of the learners, must go beyond our school/ college walls in to the community as students and as working participant.

As a part of study we, the department of Economics have decided to go to the Assam Co-operative Jute Mill Ltd. Situated at Silghat of Nagaon District on 28th of December 2021.

On that particular day the teachers of the Department, 22 nos. of students have the journey from the campus of Marangi Mahabidyalaya to Silghat at 7 A.M. The Assam Co-operative Jute Mill is situated approximately 104.9 K.M. from the college. We have reached the Mill at about 10 A.M. by a bus reserved by the Department. Along with the field study we have arranged a picnic on the bank of the River Brahmaputra which is flowing nearby the Mill. We have had our breakfast there and started our journey to the Mill as directed by the supervisor Mr. Gogoi and reached there by 11 AM.

The Co-operative Jute Mill was registered in the year 1959 under the Assam Co-operative Societies Act. and the Mill commenced its commercial production in 1970. The Mill is situated on the South bank of the river Brahmaputra located at about a distance of 8 km from Jhakhalabandha. The location of the Mill is very beautiful with hill and river. The place is a great archaeological and historical value as it has Kamakhya Temple, Trishuldhari Temple, Samantagiri, Simolagarh and some heritage Bungalows of British era, Gandhi Asthidham etc.

Objectives of the Field Study:

The main purposes of our field trip to the jute mill are –

1. To study the production process, raw materials and technology used in the Mill.
2. To study the employment opportunities provided by the Mill to the local people.
3. To Study the working environment within the Mill.
4. To study the impact of the Mill on the environment.
5. To study the various services provided to the employee.

Methodology:

During the study at the Mill the primary data are collected and some secondary data also collected from the official documents of the Government of Assam. A simple questionnaire was prepared for students to collect the primary data.

The methods which are used in the study are Descriptive and Historical.

Benefits of the study:

This field trip has helped our students to gather knowledge about the history of the Jute Mill, its current position, production per year, its volume of export to other states of India, the technology used in the production process, total number of permanent employees and temporary workers engaged in the Mill.

The students are able to collect the data using the questionnaire and they have succeeded in fulfilling the objectives of the study. They have also known from the study that other various products like decorative items, beautiful bags, ropes, wall hangings etc. can be made from jute. These type products have great market demand and it helps them to earn money. Thus, the Mill provides employment opportunity to a large number of local people.

From this study the students are able to realize that it is not an easy task to work inside the the Mill with high volume of machinery sounds. The workers do their works in a very noisy environment which may deteriorate their health. So the students have realized the importance of dignity of labour by visiting the Mill.

They are also able to realize that the local people who are engaged there on contractual basis are expert in their works.

Besides, the students have got the opportunity to visit the various historical temples situated beside the Mill like Kamakhya Dewalaya, Trishuldhari temple etc. Such types of holy places help the people to develop spirituality and give heavenly peace to them.

Conclusion:

After completing the study, we have returned from Silghat at about 3P.M. with lots of knowledge, experiences and positive vibes. The journey has make the students joyful and thought it as a great job for them.
